Our philosophy is that working toward these goals will result in continued expansion and rewards for all current and future personnel.

The above will be achieved by:

1. Making a total commitment to quality from all levels, particularly from company senior management, ensuring communication and understanding of this throughout the company.
This includes a commitment to work with suppliers and clients to establish and maintain the highest quality standards.
2. Sharing the company commitment with all employees and explaining their responsibility to support it.

4. A commitment to complying with, and continuous improvement of, an effective Quality Management System consistent with the requirements of BS EN ISO 9001:2015. This will be reviewed within an agreed framework to ensure continuous suitability to the purpose of the organisation.
5. Sharing with all company staff both our successes and areas needing improvement, whilst promoting the use of the process approach (Plan – Do – Check – Act) and risk-based thinking throughout all company activities.

The company quality objectives are as follows:

In addition to these company objectives, specific objectives are identified and monitored as part of the Management Review Meeting.
